

FORENSIC INVESTIGATION

Marty Eryavec, Instructor

TRAINING STUDENTS FOR ENTRY-LEVEL POSITIONS SUCH AS:

- Field technician for crime scene processing
- Laboratory technician for evidence analysis
- Fraud investigator for insurance firms
- Plus a wide variety of sworn and non-sworn investigative and laboratory positions

BENEFITS OF THIS CLASS:

- Develop skills that will better prepare you for a career in the public and private investigative sectors
- 30 high school credits earned per year
- Equivalency credits in English, math or sciences (Biology, Chemistry & Physics) may be available
- Extensive preparation for full-time college, military or professional studies

IN THIS CLASS, STUDENTS LEARN:

- To appreciate the importance of applied ethics and maintaining standards
- Crime scene analysis, from contamination controls through identification, documentation and collection of evidence
- Applied systematic planning & searching of crime scenes
- Laboratory methodology for physical, chemical and biological analysis of evidence
- Preparation of initial and final reports to meet judicial requirements
- Identification of specialty forensic resources available

UPON SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF CLASS, STUDENTS RECEIVE:

- Certificate of Competency (identifying skills achieved)
- Job skills that will be beneficial for a lifetime

JOB MARKET INFORMATION:

The San Francisco Bay Area is a hotbed for developmental and applied technology in the growing field of Forensics. Many Federal agencies have regional offices here and the private sector is growing rapidly.

The capability for both field processing and laboratory analysis by well-trained high school graduates is becoming a recognized resource throughout the country.

ABOUT THE INSTRUCTOR:

Marty Eryavec, comes to us with 30 years of law enforcement experience including 5 years with the Santa Cruz County Sheriff/Coroner's Investigation Unit. This includes over 1,000 unattended death investigations and over a dozen homicides. The last year of his career in law enforcement was spent as an Instructor/Training Officer at South Bay Public Safety Training Consortium at Evergreen College.

School-to-Career Pathway

